

2019 Team Elise Sponsorship

Team Elise

Elise was diagnosed with type 1 diabetes (T1D) in 2008, two days after her first birthday. Team Elise started three weeks later when we participated in the JDRF Walk in Dallas. Elise is now 12 years old.

In the last ten years, we have had over 2,000 people walking for Team Elise in Dallas, Toronto, Lisbon, Maputo, Little Rock, Abu Dhabi and New York City and we have raised over $135,000 for JDRF!

Elise walked with 106 people in Lisbon in July and will walk in Dallas on Saturday, November 16.

We hope you can be a part of Team Elise this year!

Type 1 Diabetes (T1D)

Type 1 diabetes is an autoimmune disease that strikes both children and adults suddenly. It has nothing to do with diet or lifestyle. There is nothing you can do to prevent it. And, at present, there is no cure. T1D causes lifelong dependence on injected or pumped insulin and carries the constant threat of complications.

T1D is tough, especially when you're a kid - Elise is on an insulin pump that needs to be changed every three days, gets her fingers poked about ten times a day and wears a continuous glucose sensor that needs to be changed every seven days so that we can know her blood sugar at all times.

In July, Elise started using Loop, a closed loop automated delivery system.

There are 1.25 million Americans living with T1D including about 200,000 youth (less than 20 years old).¹

During 2011-2012, the estimated annual number of newly diagnosed cases in the United States included 17,900 children and adolescents with type 1 diabetes.²
